

South Bayans Participate In National Benefit Horse Show

South Bay equestrians will join others from throughout California for the fifth annual National Benefit Horse Show presented by the Long Beach Community Hospital Auxiliary at Los Alamitos Race Course on Sept. 10-12.

Champion mounts from all sections of California will appear and Harold Dakan of Tustin, show manager, promises a fast paced show with 61 classes to be judged. These will include Tennessee Walkers, hunters, jumpers, registered quarter horses and Shetland ponies.

Special events Saturday, Sept. 11 include a noon concert by the Municipal Band, coronation ceremonies for "Queen of the Horse Show," and the exhibitors party from 6 to 10 p.m. in the Jockey Room honoring exhibitors, also families and friends of the auxiliary.

On Sunday, there will be a special Shetland Pony roadster class and the Ward Bond Challenge Memorial Trophy presentation to a rider 17 years or under.

South Bay area residents filing early entries are Julia E. Gunter, Gardena; Dana Souther, Harbor City; Carolyn Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glascock and Becky Watson of Palos Verdes; Denise Dorr, Lark Elison, Kathy Epstein, Robert Cage, Diane Gardner, Kathy Koerner, Jayne Souther, Patty Miller, Wesley E. Miller, Mrs. Walter Grace and Mrs. Joe Wtaker of Rolling Hills.

The hospital auxiliary, sponsoring the benefit, hopes to complete its pledge of $35,000 for the purchase of a Cobalt-60 unit to be installed at the hospital.

Mrs. Carleton Peters and Mrs. Stedman Gould are co-chairmen.

Working with them are Mmes. David F. Atwater, Guy Kingsbury, Walter K. Janssen, Charles Davies, Harry Orme, George Feldman, Loren Evans, Arthur J. Doherty, Steve Wetmore, Frederick Fowler Jr. Bernie Helm.

Others are Mmes. Emil Lubick, Frank Dutcher, C. Duane Mooney, Kenneth R. Cummings, Robert Wilkins, Donald Woolf, Elmer E. Lenz, Walter Inman, John Huffman, William Lockyer, Max Bailey, L. W. Clarke, B. Wallace Neumaier and George Moore.

For tickets or entry blanks Mrs. B. Wallace Neumaier, Palos Verdes, may be called.

Equine Elite

Judith Martin, trainer and teacher in the Rolling Hills area, jumps "Chesterton," owned by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glascock, 3805 Via Valmonte, Palos Verdes. Chesterton, a hunter, is one

Go-Go Hawaiian Style

Grass skirts and muumuus are in demand as the Southview Chapter B'nai B'rith Women get set for their Luau Sunday evening, Sept. 19, at the Golden Lei restaurant, 4469 Redondo Beach Blvd. The evening of fun, food, and dancing will begin with cocktails from 6:30 until 7:30, followed by dinner and special entertainment, plus a hula contest. In the party mood are, from left, seated, Mmes. Laurence Rodson, chairman, and Mrs. Jules Rensow, being served by John Bruno, bartender, who gets a shock as Mrs. Steve Fienberg impersonates Hedy Lamar in a "beaded curtain" White Cargo entrance. Mmes. Bernard Yeskin and Laurence Rodson will take reservations until Sept. 15.

Stewardess Serves In Laos

Miss Phyllis Jean Keegan, 3655 Artesia Blvd., Torrance, is one of 20 airline stewardesses from all over America selected by the Thomas A. Dooley Foundation to work in underdeveloped Asian countries in a special volunteer program.

PHYLLIS KEEGAN

Miss Keegan, who is with United Airlines, transferred from New York to Torrance in 1962. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Whittington of Des Moines, Iowa.

Miss Keegan will fly to Laos Sept. 10 to take up duties as a hospital aide and teacher at the Thomas A. Dooley Foundation hospital in Ban Houei Sai, 30 miles from the Burma border, on the edge of Communist Pathet Lao territory.

Given a three-months leave of absence by her employer, United Air Lines, Miss Keegan is assured of vided by Pan American World Airways.

The Dooley Foundation hospital at Ban Houei Sai is the last one established by Tom Dooley before his tragic death in 1961. The Foundation that bears his name continues to operate this hospital and has added river and road clinic programs to extend modern medical treatment to scores of remote villages.

Miss Keegan will assist the permanent Dooley Foundation doctor and nurse in the 26-bed hospital. She will also teach English to Lao medical trainees.

The Dooley Foundation currently operates eleven medical aid and training programs in five Asian nations. Headquarters of the private, non-political and non-sectarian organization, Thomas A. Dooley Foundation, are at 442 Post Ave., San Francisco.

Rumors Fly--Search For Talent Goes On

Rumors that a new television series along the lines of "Medic" or "Dr. Kildare" would be produced at Torrance Memorial Hospital were denied this week by Mrs. James E. Kimble of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Basis for the rumors apparently is the Auxiliary's search of the local civic and service clubs for talent and sponsors of a benefit variety show to be presented by the Auxiliary on Oct. 29-30 in Torrance High School Auditorium.

Called "Hello Follies," the Auxiliary presentation will be a gala show featuring local talent under the direction of a New York Production company.

"Hello Follies" will offer all residents interested in supporting their local hospital the opportunity to take part, Mrs. Kimble said. Those without performing ambitions are invited to take an equally important role, that of a patron or sponsor. Contributions may be mailed to Torrance Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, 1425 Encinavia Ave.

Newcomers Club To Begin Year

'Crazy Hats' To Break Ice

Torrance Welcome Wagon will open its fall season with a luncheon and "Crazy Hat" show next Thursday, Sept. 9, at the Redondo Elks Club.

Guests are asked to wear hats depicting their husbands' occupation or their favorite hobby. The crazy hat display instigated to "break the ice" for club members and their guests, will be judged and prizes will be given for "funniest,"

"most appropriate" and "most original."

A "Happy Hour" will precede the one o'clock luncheon. New officers will preside at this first meeting of the 1965-66 club year.

Members of the Welcome Wagon Alumni will be special guests. Members, and newcomers to the area interested in attending the event are asked to call Mrs. Earle Schiring, 30128 Via Victoria, Palos Verdes Peninsula, for reservations.

Frivolous Ingenuity
